CONVOCCATION 2019

FOREWORD

“I have cherished the ideal of a democratic and free society in which all persons live together in harmony and with equal opportunities.”

Nelson Mandela

This year’s convocation holds a special place in the hearts of all Greenwichians as our first cohort of students from Greenwich Mauritius will be graduating. The seed we had sown three years back is finally bearing fruits. Students from Nepal, Nigeria, Comoros and Madagascar will be getting their degrees along with our three hundred plus graduates. Bravo graduates!

We can say with confidence that students at Greenwich master the skills of critical thinking, problem solving, project management and self-management, efficiently and competently. Students are encouraged to learn through distinctive processes. The values of the institution that support learning have broadened as well, including a new recognition of the critical role diversity and equal opportunity play in facilitating a vibrant, evolving ecosystem of ideas and benefits to society. We believe diversity, equity and merit are the best metaphors for understanding the place of openness in education.

The Meridian 2019 includes names, contact information, undergraduate/graduates majors, areas of interest for undergraduate, graduate and post graduates, It will strengthen our alumni network, will provide an important resource for students, staff and faculty to view employment information for mentoring and networking purposes and above all improve communication among alumni and keep them connected.

I must acknowledge with gratitude the support given by my colleagues and students in compiling this Meridian. A special thanks to Ms. Nadia Kaleem and my exceptionally brilliant student Ms. Mahvish Hameed for writing the messages. This beautiful layout would not have been possible without our talented graphic designer Mr. Ahsan. Last but not the least all my colleagues who supported me throughout in making it a success.

Naveed Kamal Mughal

Student Provost Greenwich University

The Convocation is for many the culmination of one's hard work and their dream. It is held to celebrate those who have excelled academically, while they demonstrated the characteristics of being hardworking and not giving up at any point of their academic journey. All the hard work that you have put ends up being represented by a piece of paper which encompasses within it a great deal. It becomes your key, helping you to open doors. This piece of paper is a recognition that you will carry for the rest of your life, proudly listing it on your profile. Today, I congratulate all of you for achieving this milestone. Surely many are to follow.

Each and everyone of you whose graduating today has to admit to the fact that this day has not just come due to your hard work and perseverance, but that there are many factors at play. History has taught us that individuals who paved the path of direction for the future did not do so independently. But they did with the support of many. Today, I want you to realize and think what factors they could have been. What helped you throughout your journey. For some it could be their circumstances in life, for some it would be the opportunities and choices they were faced with. So, sit back and think about what life has given you and what you can do for yourself in the future. Also do not forget those, who worked the path with you, supporting your steps at every obstacle. Today, the proudest people will be none other than your parents, who longed for this day to come. They longed to see you wear your regalia and get ready to walk into your professional life.

Here students, I would like to end my message with a piece of advice to all of you graduating students. Today we as a country are standing at perhaps one of the most crucial crossroads of our history. This nation has been through a lot, it has always come back stronger than ever before, I want all of you to think about your part in this country and how it effect's this country.

Farhat Rashid

Director West Bury Group of Companies Group

So many dreamers; but only a few achievers; and you are one of those who achieved the goal! Congratulations on your graduation!

The role of Greenwich University has remained intrinsic and monumental in not only imparting education with excellence but also for providing a cadre of people who are committed and confident and contributing well to the society.

The true potential cannot be seen until it's sought, so try to dig deep and be cognizant of yourself. Whether your life is happy or not it's your choice. Don't follow the success definition of the world. Find your own path that your heart can follow. Sail inside, happiness resides inside don't search out in the brazen world. To be successful in the world you must develop authenticity, extraversion and assertiveness in you. A tree can withstand the harshness of weather only if it has strong roots, education gives you wings to fly but a sound character roots you firmly and gives you anchor to hold on. Determine your principals, your rules to play if you want to be on the top of your game. Stick to those principals don't break your rules and don't let anyone maneuver them.

Wish you all a marvelous voyage ahead!

Congratulation graduates! Your hard work has now been paid off!

Apart from a degree what you must need is a sound moral standing and a compassionate heart. A heart that throbs with empathy and a brain that brims with novelty is a gateway to success. Success is not always gauged in terms of material wealth but also evaluated by the contribution you make to structure this world into a better place for others. For success you must set your goal wish you all great success in life!

Message

Aisaheba Joheratus Sharaf Syedena Mufaddal Saifuddin

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Allah Th. 'ala informs us in the Holy Quran that He the Almighty exalts in stature and station all those of faith and knowledge.

يَرْفَعُ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا مِنْكُمْ وَالَّذِينَ أُوتُوا الْعِلْمَ دَرَجَاتٍ

Knowledge is a means to spiritual ascension and worldly advancement, which is why Rasul Allah, the Prophet Mohammed SAW, enjoined the pursuit of knowledge upon every Muslim — both man and woman.

طَلَبُ الْعِلْمِ فَرِيضَةٌ عَلَى كُلِّ مُسْلِمٍ وَمُسْلِمَةٍ

By specifying the female gender alongside the male in his directive, Rasul Allah SAW has highlighted the integral role female education has in societal growth and human development and has placed a great responsibility upon Muslim women. The Prophet's honorable consort Ummul Mumineen Maulatona Khadija AS and his beloved daughter, Sayyidato Nisaa' il Aalameen, Maulatona Fatema AS, were shining beacons for all womankind. Their examples illustrate how knowledge secures the health and vitality of the family, the overall well-being of society and the inherent link between the two.

لِلْخَلْقِ كُلِّهِمْ عِيَالٌ اللَّهُ فَأَحَبُّهُمْ إِلَيْهِ أَنْفَعُهُمْ لِعِيَالِهِ

Further clarifying the broad meanings inherent in the concept of a family, the Prophet Mohammed SAW has compared all of Allah's Creation to a single family. He states:

All of Creation is a family in need of Allah's sustenance. The most beloved of all Creation to Him, is the one who proves to be the most beneficial to His Creation.

Women are uniquely placed to benefit all of humanity and acquire a special place of importance and adoration in the eyes of the Almighty. Their contributions cannot be underestimated, and every effort should be made in helping them realize their potential. I appreciate the academic endeavors of Greenwich University in these regards and its overall commitment towards providing quality education.

It is my prayer to Allah Tat ala that the University scale greater heights in the coming years. In this Islamic month of Muharram al-Haram in which we have just commemorated the martyrdom of the Prophet's grandson Imam Husain As,

I especially pray that the lessons found in the remembrance and zikr of Imam Husain AS, his faithful family and loyal companions, help us understand what true knowledge is and inspire us to overcome the troubles that plague the Muslim ummah and all humanity.
In the end, considering the Quranic prayer,

وَقُلْ رَبِّ زِدْنِي عِلْمًا

I beseech Allah Ta'ala to increase us all in knowledge so that we may continue to benefit His Creation and obtain His happiness.

Ayedna Mufaddal Saifuddin

Graduation marks the end of yet another extraordinary chapter in our lives. With this chapter closed, I am certain that many of us are already anxious about starting the next one because, unlike our usual books we cannot skip ahead to the ending. We all have our own book of life and every day that passes is another page we write ourselves. Each of us has had our own experiences at Greenwich University. The innumerable memories are a combination of good and bad times, times of laughter and of joy and of course times of last minute studying for that exam we forgot was taking place the next morning. During my years at Greenwich University I have learnt that we don't have to look far for inspiration, and that we each have the potential to inspire others and make a difference by being true to our values and committing ourselves to lofty goals.

Experience At Greenwich

The experience has been wonderful. When I first came to Greenwich University back in 2012, everyone was really welcoming and ready to teach me. I learned a lot from the faculty. Greenwich made me grow as an individual who carries an empathetic heart. It is hard for me to leave my University behind and step into the real world that Greenwich taught us to stand with dignity. It will always be close to my heart, because it is where I learned everything I know today. I hope Greenwich University will prosper and will continue to remain one of the top Universities of Pakistan.

It seems like yesterday that I entered the doors of Greenwich but here I'm a graduate of Greenwich University. These four years have been like a roller coaster ride! The environment and the people of Greenwich are so welcoming and helpful that I had no problem in adjusting to this new phase of life. The good experiences that I got here of course don't imply that I did not have to face any challenges, but its these challenges that has made me a stronger and more confident person today. Greenwich gave me a chance to get to know myself better, groom myself, polish my skills, learn new things, meet new people and most importantly gain knowledge from the best faculty. Every little encounters and experiences gained here have been enriching and will remain within my memories for life long. Be it taking part in projects, events, presentations, attending seminars or lectures. And all these have helped like being stepping stone to the next professional and practical life. I can proudly say that admission in Greenwich University was the best decision that I made.

Universities or the educational institutions are not just limited to education, they provide you a way of living, groom you, make yourself competent and gives you the practical knowledge that would benefit your entire upcoming life. Greenwich had always been a combination of fun and studies for me. Starting off with the initial days where study was the core objective of mine. The small society that they have created inside their campus was a very different experience for me (specially after completing my masters degree from another institute, I can totally distinguish), that society, the faculty, staff and the students make Greenwich different from all the educational institutions of Pakistan.

I believe, studying at Greenwich turned out to be a very good option. 4 years spent here at Greenwich were perhaps the most cherished moments of my life. From the friends I made and to the teacher who taught me exceptionally well, Greenwich gave me the perfect package of an undergraduate degree. Teachers here at Greenwich taught me exceptionally well, gave me all the relevant knowledge which will help me in my near future. It's not just the teachers, the staff at Greenwich always took care of us when we entered the campus. From the security guards to the peons and to the staff working at the canteen every single person respected us and greeted us with great pleasure. The overall atmosphere provided by the management has always been more than up to the mark and I would say that It just couldn't get better than this. Experience At Greenwich

Hailing from a science background, it was hard for me to switch to BBA. I started Greenwich in 2013 with fear remaining of this new environment and new field of study. My first few days were getting adjusted to the new environment but after few days the university welcomed me with open arms. I started to make friends, the University faculty and staff members helped me to realize my full potential and achieve my goals. Greenwich University is just not a University, it is my second home and my extended family. I am thankful to Almighty Allah, my teachers, my family members, my friends, and non other than our VC Ms. Seema Mughal, for believing in me.
