FOREWORD

The Meridian 2022 comprises names and contact information of undergraduates, graduates, post-graduates, majors, and areas of interest.

This document will strengthen the Greenwich University alumni network, provide essential resources for students, faculty, and management to view employment information for mentoring and networking purposes, improve communication among alumni and keep them connected.

We are grateful to our students for their contribution in the compilation of this document.

In an endeavor to reduce our carbon footprint, the Meridian 2022 is available online at the following link.

35 Years of Excellence

The dynamic journey of Greenwich University began in 1987. Lead with a mission to alleviate illiteracy from Pakistani society, Greenwich is a preeminent Management Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, Media Studies, and Fashion University in Pakistan.

Within 11 years of commencing its journey as an academic institution, Greenwich became an autonomous degree-awarding varsity in 1998 under the Act of Sindh Government.

Greenwich is ranked among the top 5 business universities in Pakistan with global outreach, making it an internationally acclaimed university.

Confident in its years-long experience, Greenwich added the faculty of Social Sciences to its bouquet in 2000. Incremental in its approach, Greenwich established the Greenwich Research & Development Department (GRDC) in 2006, before which, in 2004, Greenwich published its first magazine G-Vision. GRDC promotes and produces quality research, maintains ethical concerns, and strengthens the research base through a rigorous mechanism.

By 2007, Greenwich had established Quality Enhancement Cell and published its first research journal. Consequent years witnessed Convocations, adoption of a school, the roadmap towards success.

2011 marks significant recognitions for Greenwich, including memberships of NAFA, IAU, AACSB, and the publishing of Positive Post. 2012 brought Greenwich's Silver Jubilee, an international conference on energy and crisis management, and a Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Award.

2013 spread its charm through greater recognition, memberships of APQN, INQAHE, and momentous achievement of the Brand of the year award. Greenwich bloomed to incorporate a Sports facility and host its 8th convocation.

The recognition of QEC by the Higher Education Commission – Pakistan (HEC) in 2014 followed the Office of Research Innovation & Commercialization (ORIC) foundation, cementing Greenwich's academic excellence.

35 Years of Excellence

Reaching above & beyond, Greenwich inaugurated its branch campus in Mauritius, recognized by Tertiary Education Commission (TEC) in 2015, while proudly producing the first batch of MPhil and PhDs from the Karachi campus. Marching on towards academic excellence, Greenwich's Karachi campus hosted the Mauritius branch campus President's visit while proving its mettle in an international conference on Aviation and a seminar on renowned literary figures Iqbal and Rumi in 2016.

Greenwich's 12th convocation brought increased eminence, memberships in ACU & AMBA were achieved. Going global, Greenwich went to the European Parliament, organized two international conferences on business and globalization, and at home, established a think tank Karachi Research Chair (KRC) to support the government through quality research in 2017 & 2018.

MESSAGE

SEEMA MUGHAL

Vice Chancellor
Greenwich University

I heartily congratulate the Class of 2019 on their phenomenal success. It is due to the support, warmth, and encouragement you received from your family throughout this journey that resulted in this achievement. It is indeed a proud moment for you and your family.

Unlike the convocations I witnessed in the past, this journey's strenuous nature sets Convocation 2022 apart. Pandemic took over, disrupting our social contact and academics, putting our lives to a screeching halt. Despite the moments of deep despair and uncertainty, you outshone yourself by adapting to new learning modes, keeping pace with studies, certainly sending out the message that nothing can bar the Graduating Class from achieving their aims.

Your journey has inspirational learning for all the future batches to come. Importantly, you are leaving Greenwich as a dynamic youngster equipped to play leadership roles in whatever path you choose in life.

My vision as Vice-Chancellor is to create a culture that promotes research, teaching, learning, administrative processes, and extension activities driven by technology and anchored in humanism. Greenwich's purpose is to strive for excellence and keep pushing forward to contribute to Pakistan's progress.

We are proud of our academic programs that provide a holistic education taught by well-qualified faculty. We are equally proud of our supporting success, arts, sports excellence, and other creative avenues for students to pursue and benefit from. We remain committed to our vision as a leading international university, and we are accelerating our energies in pursuing first-class research, providing excellent education, and driving innovation.

Lastly, I would leave you with the thought that "Our greatness has always come from people who expect nothing and take nothing for granted – folks who work hard for what they have, then reach back and help others after them."

MESSAGE

SAEED KAMAL MUGHAL
Registrar
Greenwich University

I would like to congratulate the Vice Chancellor, faculty, staff, and the graduating students at Greenwich University on this auspicious occasion. This convocation ceremony is the testament of the efforts congregated by Greenwich Fraternity, in supervision of their Vice Chancellor, Ms. Seema Mughal to attain the position of one of the eminent educational institutes in Pakistan.

As the registrar, I would like to emphasize on the importance of education and its role in nation building. A good education is not a function of geography or locality but a function of aptitude, determination, dedication, and hard work. The world belongs to the brave and courageous among us – those who dare to go where other haven't dare going, to bring about qualitative and quantitative changes boring potential to transform our lives.

The essence of a good education has always been and will forever be, the quest for truth and knowledge, wisdom necessary to apply the knowledge and experience to serve fellow men

MESSAGE

NAVED AHMEDMUGHAL

Student Provost
Greenwich University

Dear Graduating Class,

I am immensely proud of you – The whole Greenwich Fraternity is proud of you.

Your resilience and perseverance are inspiring. In navigating unprecedented challenges, you developed a capacity for learning and personal growth that will continue to set you apart.

Before the pandemic and throughout this remote learning period, you have contributed in countless ways to the uncommon sense of community that characterizes our campus.

You are now members of Greenwich University's alumni family, and you will always be welcome here. Our fraternity near and far will be the benefactors of your knowledge, skill, and abilities; your vision for a just future, your courage, and your tenacity.

I wish you all the best as you take the following steps in life's journey. Thank you for sharing the first step of that journey with us. Congratulations!

My experience at Greenwich University thus far has been unique. I have learned and admired so many new things that will stay with me for the rest of my life. The fun part about university life and experience was getting to try out things that were perhaps out of my comfort zone. It brought the experience that includes the events I took part in, the skills I learned from them, and the memories and friends I made. I spent a great time understanding the greater values, did not know the outcomes of all my actions in those four years, but it is what it is, and so far, it is going great. I had a great time in Greenwich. The memories will always be cherished.

Experience at Greenwich:

Everyone’s first semester at university is bound to be different. It’s a significant step up from high school or college – bringing new friends, new places, and new experiences. My experience has been a mix of joyous times and challenges that I had already anticipated before starting. The transition from high school to university, for me personally, was a bit difficult. Generally, I’ve had an enjoyable time. It was initially difficult to make friends, and I’ve had to learn to be a lot more independent. Despite this, I managed to quickly overcome these issues. I got involved in different aspects of university life. My university experiences thus far have been unique. I learned and experienced numerous new things in a short duration, which went by swiftly.

Experience at Greenwich:

- Life-changing and life-altering, they might sound similar but with very different implications. I learned not just about myself but have been able to communicate with so many kinds of teachers and students that I've absorbed the culture of Greenwich into myself. I've truly been able to learn from the best environment and society the university has offered. The 5 years I've spent here allowed me to experience its incredible environment, learn from great people and get excellent guidance, given the opportunity to say that I've become a better man today with the help of Greenwich University's support.

- Music

Experience at Greenwich:

- My time at Greenwich had its fair share of challenges but everything would always come together by the end, it's safe to say the ending to each semester was a happy one. I came across Greenwich University at a stressful moment in my life, while trying to find a university that catered to the English Literature and Linguistics degree program and I am so glad that I did. I am grateful that I was able to commence my journey here because I learned so much, academically and otherwise. I learned so much about myself along the way, about people, and institutions. I would never change anything about my journey, no matter the challenges along the way because it made me who I am today and I am very proud of that.

Experience at Greenwich:

- It was a very good and exuberant experience with lots of learning from teachers and my friends. The journey of Greenwich taught me a lot and endeavor me to fulfill this goal. When I started Greenwich I was a little timid and in distress that how will these four years go and will I be able to finish my degree or leave the university in between, I was being very pessimistic and wary about it. Soon I realized I cannot survive like this I have to valiantly fight this. Even though after failing a few courses I tried my best not to giveup, many of my friends motivated me that it's possible, and with all my energy I succeeded. So I would say my experience here would be both good and bad but its pinnacle points were I got to make new friends and met teachers, some were strict and some were calm but the best thing was I got a chance to learn from all of them.

- My experience at Greenwich University has been amazing. I have learnt and experienced a lot in this period of time. From the first day, I felt at home here. I have made many friends that have become a very important part of my life. My classes were great and I literally enjoyed all of them. The depth and detail of what we learnt was far beyond. My teachers were great and I learned so much from them. As for extracurricular activities, I was a part of many societies and organised numerous fun events. I was the president of environmental and entrepreneur society which was one amazing experience.

Experience at Greenwich:

- Greenwich has a friendly environment. There is not much strictness when it comes to extra-curricular activities but as far as studies are concerned everyone has to be in time for classes and even for the examinations, 80% attendance is mandatory. Overall the experience has been amazing and tough but thankfully I have finally completed my courses and I am glad that I achieved one of my goals and made my family proud.

Experience at Greenwich:

- Universities, in general, are a breeding ground for experience-building interactions. Teachers and students form the bulk of these interactions. I think teachers provide a platform for their students to grow, the quality of teaching manifests in the development of the students. Peers are arguably even more influential than teachers. Teachers generally get a set amount of quality teaching time with students. In contrast, peers influence the educational level inside and outside the lecture hall and are more personal. My experience at Greenwich was all-encompassing.

Experience at Greenwich:

My experience with Greenwich University dates back to 2005, when I enrolled for my undergraduate degree in Business Administration. After graduating in 2010 I almost immediately began my career in sales switching to trade marketing after a few years. It wasn't until 2018 that I decided to take a brief break and enrolled for the Executive Masters degree. Despite the passage of time it felt like a homecoming with known guards always smiling to welcome us at the gate to the helpful personnel sitting behind the reception desk. Like any time tested relationship, Greenwich and I have had our ups and downs but the memories I've collected within its gates and the friends I made during my time there will always hold a special place in my life.

On the contrary, this journey in Greenwich has kindled a bloom of self-confidence, that, regardless of circumstances, you can ace it. An exceptional experience with the most accommodating staff and excellent faculty. It was always amazing and a beautiful feeling, attending the class on campus but due to the Covid'19 restrictions, the classes were conducted online which too were quite comprehensive and convenient. The teachers assured me that the class was interesting and fruitful. The exams conducted online were amazing, with no glitches or difficulties it was in total, an utmost user-friendly experience. Overall it was a really smooth and pleasant journey.

Experience at Greenwich:

Greenwich is a good place where a student learns and explores more. I came to Greenwich in 2014 for my Bachelor's degree, and now Alhamdulillah done my Master's degree in 2020. The journey of six years with Greenwich has ended so fast that it seemed like a year when I came here. The faculty members, teachers, and staff are very corporative, and I will miss each and everyone and the time spent hanging out with friends, going out for lunch, and skipping classes. It was an incredible journey to be a part of the Greenwich family and a learning experience. The food at the canteen, classrooms, the sports room, playing cricket match and studying in the library a day before exams, I will miss all of this a lot.

Achievement is not what we get in the end its the experience to grow from what you were and what you are, I am proud to say that Greenwich University has given me the exposure and experience for what I am right now. Greenwich forever! I remember the first day, my first class, a girl from a small town like Larkana being nervous about how is it going to be. Would I be able to do this? So many questions going in my head at that time. But day by day getting to know things getting to understand, all the help from the most co-operative faculty members, my classmates things started to roll. The intellectual knowledge besides the subject content not only have made me understand my degree but life as well. Through these times Greenwich has just given us a tremendous amount of support and has catered us being a student centric institution in Karachi. I would cherish each and every moment spent in Greenwich University. Thank you Greenwich!

My quest for learning beckoned me to resume my studies as I joined Greenwich University to do my Master's in English Linguistics. It has brought interdisciplinary attributes to understand the diversity in society and individuals. The knowledge I have acquired will help implement a pedagogical perspective and facilitate my professional growth. The importance of technology is highlighted through my thesis "Impact of Mobile Assisted Language Learning (MALL) as an Emerging Technology for English Language Learning at Tertiary Level in Pakistan". I thoroughly enjoyed MALL and implemented MALL tools in teaching students. Apart from my thesis, which provided me hands-on experience imparting teaching and learning, I have developed a love for writing poetry in English and short stories through literature courses I took at the University. It's a great honor that one of my poems, The Mountains Whisper, was selected and performed by St. Andrew's Centre for Philosophy & Performing Arts, Mumbai, India. It has been a pleasure to be a part of this prestigious institute. I will be indebted for the knowledge and experiences I gained in my Greenwich University journey.
